MOGGS CREEK LANDMARK PROPERTY

When the Boyd family first settled in Moggs Creek in 1902 and then subdivided much of the area, they chose a flat parcel of land, generous in size, positioned close to the beach and with the creek winding its way around its boundary, on which to put down their roots.

For only the third time in history, this property is now being offered for sale. The site of the original Old Neuk homestead, 21 Old Neuk Road has an outlook and aspect that is extremely hard to find on the entire Great Ocean Road.

On flat, useable land of around 2 of an acre and only metres from the beach with nature as your neighbour. Listen to the sounds of the frogs, the birds and the crashing waves and immerse yourself in another world.

The very well presented weatherboard house is of generous proportions and comprises four large bedrooms, a central open plan living/kitchen/dining area plus a massive formal lounge room.
